Historic Districts & Infill

Tues, July 21, 9:00 - 4:00 | AIA, AICP CE

District Designation to Infill Development: Placemaking at Pier 70

Bayside Conference Room, Pier 1, San Francisco

Members: $75 (before tomorrow); Non-members $110 (before tomorrow)

Register by tomorrow and receive $40 off registration!

This workshop will follow the process of historic districts, from nomination and designation, to design guidelines, project planning, and financing. The focus of this workshop will be the $250 million mixed-use development in progress at Pier 70 in San Francisco. You will look at historic integrity in the context of a large historic district; budget, scope, and process for a challenging, vacant historic district; and compliance with legal requirements.

This workshop will conclude with an on-site study tour of the Pier 70 / Union Iron Works National Register District.

Speakers

Charles Chase, Principal, Architectural Resources Group; Nancy Goldenberg, LEED AP, Principal Architect / Architectural Historian, Carey & Co. Inc.; Mark Paez, Port of San Francisco; Kelly Pretzer, Development Manager, Forest City; Laura Crescimano, Principal, SITELAB urban studio.

CEQA from All Angles: A 360 Degree Look at the California Environmental Quality Act

Bayside Conference Room, Pier 1, San Francisco

Members: $75 (before tomorrow); Non-members $110 (before tomorrow)

Register by tomorrow and receive $40 off registration!

The California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) is California's preeminent environmental law. It is an environmental 'bill of rights' that ensures the public is engaged in the decisions that impact them most directly. And it is one of the most important tools communities can use to protect historic buildings in California. This workshop will focus on CEQA from different perspectives: citizens groups, local government, and courts. Using case studies, speakers will present how CEQA has been used effectively, and attendees will learn how they can affect decisions in their communities through interactive sessions and hypothetical cases.

Speakers

Susan Brandt-Hawley, Esq., Brandt-Hawley Law Group; Darcy Kremin, Bay Area Environmental Practice Leader, Michael Baker International; Stephen Schafer, HABS/HAER/HALS Photographer; Brian Turner, Esq., Senior Field Officer/Attorney, National Trust for Historic Preservation; Sally Zarnowitz, Planner, City of Berkeley.
